Teaching Attendance

2016 National Family and Community Engagement Conference ~ Pittsburgh, PA
About Us

Attendance Works is a national and state initiative that promotes awareness of the important role that school attendance plays in achieving academic success starting with school entry. We are an implementation partner for attendance with the Campaign for Grade Level Reading.

Our three focus areas to improve student attendance are:
- Build public awareness and political will
- Foster state campaigns
- Encourage local practice

Chronic Absence is different from truancy (unexcused absences only) or average daily attendance (how many students show up to school each day).
Multiple Measures of Attendance

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Measure</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Average Daily Attendance</td>
<td>How many students show up to school every day? The percent of enrolled students who attend school each day. It is used in some states for allocating funding.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Truancy</td>
<td>Who is missing school without permission? Typically refers only to unexcused absences. Each state has the authority to define truancy and when it triggers legal intervention.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chronic Absence</td>
<td>Who is missing so much school they are academically at risk? Broadly means missing too much school for any reason -- excused, unexcused, etc. Researchers commonly define it as missing 10% of school. OCR currently defines it as missing 15 days and will be releasing a report in Spring 2016. Chronic absence is a required reporting metric in ESSA.</td>
</tr>

</table>
Chronic Absence is easily masked if we only monitor missing consecutive days.

Multiple Years of Chronic Absenteeism = High Risk for low 3rd Grade Reading Skills

Note: Indicates that scores are significantly different from scores of students who are never chronically absent, at p<.001 level. + In the DIBELS 6th Edition Assessment and Scoring Guide (Good & Kaminksi, 2002), these are labeled as “Some Risk,” indicating the need for additional intervention and “At Risk,” indicating the need for substantial interventions.
The Effects of Chronic Absence on Dropout Rates Are Cumulative

Proportion of Students Dropping Out by Number of Years the Student was Chronically Absent from 8th-12th Grades

How Can We Address Chronic Absence?
Unpack contributing factors to chronic absence

Myths
- Absences are only a problem if they are unexcused
- Sporadic versus consecutive absences aren’t a problem
- Attendance only matters in the older grades

Barriers
- Lack of access to health or dental care
- Poor Transportation
- Trauma
- No safe path to school
- Homelessness

Aversion
- Child struggling academically or socially
- Bullying
- Ineffective school discipline
- Parents had negative school experience
- Undiagnosed disability

Disengagement
- Lack of engaging and relevant instruction
- No meaningful relationships with adults in school
- Vulnerable to being with peers out of school vs. in school
- Poor school climate
Recommended Site-Level Strategies

A. Recognize Good and Improved Attendance

B. Engage Students and Parents

C. Monitor Attendance Data and Practice

D. Provide Personalized Early Outreach

E. Develop Programmatic Response to Barriers
Invest in Prevention and Early Intervention

TIER 1
- Recognize good & improved attendance
- Educate & engage students and families
- Monitor attendance data & set goals
- Establish positive & engaging school climate
- Identify & address common barriers to getting to school

TIER 2
- Provide personalized early outreach
- Meet to develop tailored action plan
- Connect to a caring mentor

TIER 3
- Intensive case management with coordination of public agency and legal response as needed

- Students who missed 20% or more of school (severe chronic absence)
- Students missing 10–19% (moderate chronic absence)
- Students missing 5–9% (at risk)
- Students missing less than 5% (satisfactory)
What Can Teachers Do?

Teaching Attendance

A toolkit to help teachers

Classroom teachers already know how missing too much school can put a child’s academic future at risk. Chronic absence (missing 10% or more of school in excused or unexcused absences) can be a significant challenge, starting as early as preschool.

Research has shown that children who are chronically absent in kindergarten and first grade are much less likely to read well by the end of third grade, and absences throughout elementary school are associated with poor attendance and lower academic performance in later grades. By middle and high school, chronic absence is a proven early warning sign that a student is at risk of dropping out.

Attendance Works is pleased to offer a free Teacher Toolkit offering tips for how teachers can:

- Emphasize the importance of attendance starting on Day 1
- Leverage parent-teacher conferences to deal with absenteeism
- Build a culture of attendance in classrooms

Visit: www.attendanceworks.org to download
A. Emphasize attendance from day one

B. Use parent-teacher conferences to talk about attendance

C. Promote a culture of attendance all year long

A. Emphasize Attendance from Day One

What research says about what parents know – or don’t know – about attendance
Education is Important

- I want a better life for my child and education is the key
- I want my child to go to college

Parents underestimate the number of year-end absences

The Ad Council asked each parent about his or her child’s absences in two ways:

1. Was your child absent an average of 2 or more days a month?
2. Was your child absent more than 10 days over the year?

60% of parents said their child was absent an average of 2+ days a month, but not 10+ days a year

The math: If a child is absent an average of 2+ days a month, then he/she is absent far more than 10+ days a year
Attendance doesn’t really matter until high school

Elementary and Middle school is for playing and socializing
Parents More Likely to Consider Attendance a “Big Deal” in High School

% who say “it’s a big deal to miss at this grade level”

Absences are okay if I say so

It is not okay if a child ditches
But if I give permission it’s okay:

- Sickness
- Bullying
- Vacation
- Rest
- Reward for good grades
- Appointments
- Help around the house
- Family time
Schools inadvertently reinforce some absence-causing beliefs

Reinforce Attendance
- Class rewards for good attendance (e.g. popcorn or ice cream parties)
- Individual recognition for students with good attendance

Big motivators for kids, but not for parents

Reinforce Absenteeism
- Impersonal letters
- Teachers send work home in response to absences
- Teachers do not address absenteeism issue with the parent
- Parents do not feel their child is safe in school
- High levels of absenteeism in the

Reinforces parents’ existing attitudes & behaviors

Impersonal Letters:
- Easy to disregard
- Many parents felt the school miscounted—but parents couldn’t verify because they weren’t tracking absences
- Many parents felt that the school didn’t understand them

Sending Work Home:
- Parents thought that completing a makeup packet caught their child up for the missed day’s work

Teachers Not Addressing Absenteeism:
- Most parents reported that they regularly communicate with their children’s teacher, but never about absences
Insights

- Parents do not connect early absences with long-term negative consequences.
- Teachers communicate with parents, but not about absences.
- Absence letters alone are ineffective, generating fear, denial, or misunderstanding—especially for Hispanic parents.
Parents have the bottom line responsibility for setting attendance expectations and making sure their child gets to school every day.

Schools can support parents in several ways:

1. Parents need the right information and access to resources

2. Schools need to respect an honor families’ knowledge and customs

3. Schools and communities must build systems of trust that support family engagement

Teachers are the First Line of Intervention and Prevention

Teachers can make a difference by highlighting the importance of attendance in interactions with students and families.

The core roles of teachers include:

1. Emphasize attendance from day one

2. Use Parent-Teacher Conferences to talk about attendance

3. Promote a culture of attendance all year long

4. Maintain communication with School Attendance Team

4 Ways to Emphasize Attendance from Day One

1. Talk with parents to share the value of good attendance and let them know you are there to help
2. Send home handouts with information and tips
3. Make time at a parent event to demonstrate the importance of attendance or to create a plan to avoid unnecessary absences
4. Celebrate Attendance Awareness Month

B. Use Parent-Teacher Conferences to Talk About Attendance
How many of you work in a district or a school where parent teacher conferences are still held?

Do you discuss attendance during those conferences?
Know Your Attendance Categories

Satisfactory Attendance
- Missing less than 5% of school days

At-Risk
- Missing between 5-10% of school days

Chronic Absence
- Missing 10% or more of school days
Q: It’s time for parent-teacher conferences and 40 school days have gone by.

What does it mean for a student to be in the Satisfactory Attendance category?

A: Student has missed 2 or fewer school days
Q: It’s time for parent-teacher conferences and 40 school days have gone by.

You meet with a parent whose child was absent 6 days. What category is she in?

A: Student is chronically absent. (40 divided by 10 is 4 days)
Attendance Categories Recapped

Good Attendance

Student has missed fewer than 5% of school days (generally less than 4 or 5 days in a semester)

At-Risk

Student has missed between 5% and 10% of school days (generally between 5-9 days in a semester)

Chronic Absence

Student has missed 10% or more of school days (generally 9 days or more in a semester)
Tailoring the Conversation to Students’ Situations

Satisfactory Attendance

Congratulate parents on making attendance a priority and encourage them to keep it up. Ask them what they’re doing that’s enabling them to be so successful.

At-Risk

Let parents know that you are concerned about attendance because their child is beginning to head off track, and it is easy for absences to add up.

If student is right around 10% or a little above

Let parents know their child may be academically at risk because they have missed so much school. Discuss underlying causes and how you can help.

Chronic Absence

If student is severely chronically absent (e.g. >20%)

The type of challenges these families face may differ from those with more moderate absence problems. Be prepared to touch on difficult topics, be supportive, and be ready to connect to community resources.

Consider an additional family meeting on attendance.

Learn

Learn about the student’s family. Ask what their vision is for their child’s future. What are their hopes and dreams for them?

Share

Share positive things you’ve observed about the student. Share your own vision for student learning & development, including helping put students on a pathway to success by encouraging a habit of good attendance.

Inform

Review attendance report with parents. Tailor conversation to student’s level of absenteeism & inform parents of possible impacts of missing school. Connect attendance to parents’ hopes and dreams for their child.

Discuss

Discuss the challenges parents face in getting their children to school, as well as strengths they can build upon. For chronically absent students, try to understand the barriers that are keeping their children from school.

Arrive at a Plan

Think through strategies with parents for addressing absences and help them develop an attendance improvement plan. Offer referrals to services as needed and ask if there are other ways you can help.

MY CHILD'S ATTENDANCE SUCCESS PLAN

POSSIBLE STRATEGIES TO IMPROVE MY CHILD'S ATTENDANCE GOALS

1. I will talk to my child about how going to school every day will help them do well in school and achieve their hopes and dreams.
2. I will keep an attendance chart at home. At the end of the week, I will recognize my child for attending school every day with:
   - a visit to the park
   - a new book
   - a special treat
3. I will make sure my child is well fed and that the climate is set for school.
4. If my child completes a homework assignment, I will reward him/her with a special treat.
5. If my child is absent due to illness, I will check in with the school administrator.
6. If my child is absent due to illness, I will contact the teacher to find out what the child missed.
7. I will set up medical and dental appointments for weekdays after school.

To improve my child's attendance, I commit to the following:

3.

It's crucial to make progress in meeting this goal in two weeks.

Debrief

For the person playing the parent or caregiver: How did you feel at the beginning when the staff person approached you about your child’s attendance? How did you feel at the end of the conversation? What was helpful?

For the person playing the staff person: What did you learn about effective conversations about attendance? How can you prepare more for the next conversation?

For the Observer: What did you see the staff person do that you would want to imitate? What alternative approaches can you suggest?
